ERY'S SPEECH

By a Southern Senator.

R WANTS COMPROMISE

A TALE OF TERROR.

Awful Experience in the Great Mississippi Storm.

SWEPT AWAY BY THE FLOOD.

NO FUSION YET.

John T. Murray and H. C. Orahood at Work for a Combination.

Mayor John T. Murray and H. C. Orahood, the two leaders of the Populist State Central committee, have been in Denver since Monday, and they could be found at the Brown palace hotel yesterday morning. Mr. Murray was seen by a reporter for the Times and asked if he had been in Denver on political business.

Mr. Murray, the Representative from South Carolina, who introduced the resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges made by Mr. Lynch, the colored member from Mississippi, that he had been offered a bribe to vote for the Sherman law repeal bill, was asked to explain the matter. He said that Lynch had come to him and told him that he had been approached by a Democrat who had offered him $2,000 if he would vote for the repeal bill. Lynch had refused the bribe, and had reported the matter to Mr. Murray. Mr. Murray had then introduced the resolution referred to.

Senator Butler, of South Carolina, addressed the Senate in reply to Senator Pettigrew's speech of yesterday, ridiculing the latter's proposition to issue $50 per capita. He said the real question was not how much anybody had, but what it could be exchanged for. The trouble was not a want of money, but a want of confidence. Mr. Sherman had said that bimetallism could be restored directly by the action of the Democratic party. Why had not the Republican party fostered bimetallism when it was in power? Why had it not restored the double standard? Why had it not coined the seigniorage? Why had it not issued silver certificates? Why had it not issued silver certificates to the full amount of the bullion in the Treasury? Why had it not provided for a federal coinage? Why had it not provided for the free coinage of silver? Why had it not restored the double standard? Why had it not provided for the free coinage of silver? Why had it not restored the double standard? Why had it not provided for the free coinage of silver? Why had it not restored the double standard

AN EFFORT AT FUSION.

One day last week Superintendent Murray in Denver, conversing about the political situation in El Paso county, said in effect, that when the "scrapping" had gone far enough, "we" would come down and straighten it all out. The presence of Superintendent Murray in the city at this time, in company with Register Childs, perhaps the other half of the "we," and of Mr. Montgomery of Cripple Creek, the leader of the fusion forces at the late Democratic convention, leads to the conclusion that "we" are now engaged in the task of advice, direction and restraint, for all Democrats and Populists who may or may not apply.

It is not a matter of much consequence to THE GAZETTE or to the Republican party, whether a compromise is fixed up between Democrats and Populists, or not. Such a fusion would win as many votes to the Republicans as to the Populists. No sensible Democrat will vote the Populist ticket whether it is endorsed by his party managers or not. But how ridiculous the Democratic party of this county would appear if after their action at the convention, their magnificent talk about principle, etc., they should now accept the compromise that was then cheered them. We cannot believe there is a possibility of anything so absurd.

THE SOUTHERN STORM.

The great storm which on last Sunday devastated the Gulf coast may be classed among the worst calamities of the kind recorded. A wind along the sea coast reaching the recorded velocity of sixty miles an hour, accompanied with a heavy rainfall, could not fail to do much damage, and when this storm, coming from the south drove upon the low lying islands and mainland an immense sea of water, great loss of life and property could not fail to result. Like the storm which devastated the South Atlantic coast some weeks ago, full reports of the damage are slow in coming in, but it is already certain that the loss will be very great. Many buildings have been destroyed, many plantations ruined and on islands and low lying districts of the mainland, the loss of life has been appalling. On one island which contained 300, 8 only five escaped destruction, and another large island is reported to have been entirely washed away.

The violence and destructiveness of the storm, naturally suggest the theory of a tidal wave. Reports of earthquakes or volcanic eruptions will be awaited with interest, but it does not seem impossible that even so great an inundation should result from the direct action of the hurricane upon the surface of the sea. Severe storms have not been uncommon at the mouth of the Mississippi and along the Gulf coast. There was one in 1888, another in 1880, and of a tremendous one so far back as 1856, the memory is still vivid.

TO-DAY'S YACHT RACE.

The second international [illegible] The America's cup will be sailed at New York to day, between the Englishe yacht Valkyrie and the American Vigilant. Of all the races which for forty-two years have been frequent between English and American yachtsmen, none has been of more interest and for months past on both sides of the ocean a large number of people have been looking forward to the race which will retain the famous cup on this side of the ocean or allow it to be borne in triumph across the sea. To-day's race will be thirty miles in length and will be over what is known as Course No. 1. A turn will be made at a stake boat, fifteen miles from beginning, and the race will terminate at the Scotland lightship. There will also be a second race, over a triangular course, each of the three sides being ten miles in extent.

The weather prospects are not favorable to pleasure seekers. Every indication points to at least a strong wind, and a real storm is not unlikely. Both boats, however, have already proven themselves good enough sea boats, and neither can claim a decided advantage on this account. The Vigilant, it will be remembered, won the last trial race in more than a capfull of wind, and the Vaikyrie experienced rough weather, also in her preliminary races, by any nothing of the severe storm encountered on the way over the Atlantic.

Whatever the weather, the race promises to be a close one and while each have the best of reasons for hoping for the success of the Yankee boat, nothing can be sure until the race is ended.

The action of the foreign fleets in ordering a stop to the bombardment of Rio de Janeiro, was dictated by justice and humanity. The bombardment of the city by the rebels was not civilized warfare. The spirit of it was the same as that which in barbarous times led to the torture of a hostage in sight of an opposing army. So long as the rebel fleet confined its attacks to the forts in the harbor there was no reason for outside interference, but the continued attacks upon the city, the bombardments of non combatants were contrary to the spirit of international law, and justified the interference of the allied fleets.

Denver proposes, for so long either Leadville, Cripple Creek or Aspen like to mineral greatness or at least mentioned it only as a possibility, are awakening to the fact that the greatest mineral discovery of the age has been made at their very doors and the concerted looming they gave Cripple Creek but a few months since is tame beside the manner in which they are now praising Cripple Creek. But El Paso's great gold camp can stand all the good things it is possible to say about it.

The Democratic State convention of New York meets in Saratoga to-day. The chief issue before the convention is whether Thos. F. Maynard will be nominated to succeed himself as Judge of the Court of Appeals. Among the candidates for Secretary of State are Samuel Allen and George B. McClellan.

One of the truest sentences uttered in the Senate at the session was spoken by Senator Blackburn of Kentucky yesterday. "Every day as it goes by," said this Democrat, "impairs, still more the faith of the American people in our capacity to govern."

A monetary conference of the Latin Union is to be held in Paris October 16th. It action will be awaited with interest.

Potato Day fails far to be a Monumental success.

He Was Proud of St. Louis.

"Where are you from?" [illegible] winter [illegible] St. Louis [illegible] other's [illegible] he pulled [illegible] handkerchief out of his pocket and gave it out.

"You think St. Louis a little cottage town, don't you? But you are mistaken. Why, you can't do half in New York that we can do there. Look at this handkerchief, for instance," and he held it for inspection.

In the corner was photographed a cabinet size picture of four gentlemen seated about a table. "Here we are in peculiar small caps of the Mystic Shrine, and in their hands were playing cards, and upon the table were stacks of chips. The St. Louis man was one of the number.

"Look at that," he went on. "Never saw anything like that here. It takes a St. Louis man to think of such things. Now, I suppose you think we westerners are a bad lot, don't you? Why, I am kept busy building fires to put eastern people in. We are not half so bad as you." He laughed heartily. "When you are out my way come and see me. I'll give you a good time, and when you go away you'll think St. Louis is the greatest city in the world—as it is." He pulled out a cigar—and handed me a pasteboard.

A Unique Marriage Certificate.

In the good old days when it was not so easy to find a parson as it is now a couple called upon a newly elected J. P. of Peoria county, Ills., who had not received his commission and stated their desire to be duly spliced. He informed them that he had not received his commission, but they insisted that they must get married and asked him to find a way to help them out. At length a bright idea seized him, and he gave them a certificate, a copy of which [illegible] will find below verbatim et literatim [illegible] certificate is now actually on file:

HIGH CARNIVAL AT ST. LOUIS.

THE METROPOLIS OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY AGAIN PERFECTS A PROGRAMME

Of Fall Festivities that for brilliancy and variety of attractions the carnival cities of the old world.

First, the most magnificent city on either continent, has for ages held the proud title of "the premier carnival city of the world." However, during the last ten or twelve years an American rival of no mean pretensions has contested for that high honor, and to-day St. Louis holds what Paris so reluctantly relinquished, the title of "the carnival city of the [illegible] continents."

Not content with the successful exhibitions of previous years, the Autumnal Festivities Association has arranged a programme for 1893 that for brilliancy and variety will be different [illegible] from anything ever before attempted. The first of the great attractions, the St. Louis Exposition, will throw its doors open to the public Sept. 5th and continue until Oct. 21st. The world-renowned Sousa's Band has been engaged by the management, which in itself is a sufficient guarantee to crowd the magnificent building during every concert.

Special attention has been paid to the street illumination, and on the evenings of August 12th, 19th and 26th, September 2d, 9th, 16th, 23d and 30th, and Oct. 3d, 7th, 12th and 14th the most magnificent display ever attempted will greet the eye of the fortunate visitor, electricity playing a prominent part. The evening of October 21st the Veiled Prophet and his followers will parade through the principal thoroughfares and immediately after the great ball, which has received considerable promise throughout the world, will be held.

The 33d great St. Louis Fair and Zoological Gardens, October 2d to 7th, will be the crowning week of the carnival season. This institution has no peer, and is known in every land where the footprints of civilization exist. The Missouri Pacific Railway and Iron Mountain Route being distinctly St. Louis lines, and having at all times the interests of the city in mind, have made a remarkably low round trip rate from all points on the entire system to St. Louis and return during the festivities.

For further information in regard to rates, time limit of tickets and for a copy of the fall festivities programme, address nearest ticket agent in your territory, or H. C. Townsend, G. P. and T. Agt., St. Louis.

REMARKABLE DISTRIBUTION

Standard Books!

AT NOMINAL PRICES,

And that can only be made possible by our co-operation for the benefit of our readers. These books cannot be obtained at less than wholesale price in any other way than as described below.

We take pleasure in announcing to our readers that we have made a contract whereby we can furnish them with standard books at absolutely less than wholesale prices. The books which we offer each week are by world-famous writers, and are printed from absolutely new type made specially for these works. The books are bound by an entirely new process which does away with the old style of thread or wire binding. Each leaf is bound into the book separately and [illegible] with the whole, allowing the book to lie perfectly flat when open, giving ease and comfort to the reader.

Each week we will announce a new book. Save your coupons as we will be sure to announce books which you will not fail to order.

Col. D. C. Browne says that the output of the Zenobia averages from 100 to 150 tons of smelting ore per week, together with 20 tons of mill material. The latter is treated in the camp and yields from $5 to $10 per ton in gold. The smelting product is shipped to Denver, most of it to the Grant smelter. It ranges in value from $125 to $150 in gold per ton.

Ask any one of the Hand Writing Experts who can write best with both hands and he will tell you Shorthand. Then call at 20 S. Tejon and learn how to write it.

Sir Edwin Arnold stated that in Japan every child is taught to write with either hand both hands, and he hinted that this was not the only evidence of sound common sense he had met with in the kingdom of the mikado.

There have been many remedies suggested for what is known as writer's cramp, and many writers differ as to whether the pen and the typewriter or the simplest plan of all is to acquire the art of writing with either hand and change from one to the other on the first suspicion of fatigue.

It is quite as easy for a child to learn to write with the left hand, and thought after the muscles have got set with age it is more difficult almost any man can learn to write with his left hand in a week, and to write well with the left hand as the other in [illegible]
